

The 16th International Environmental Children's Drawing Contest

Sponsored by Japan Quality Assurance Organization (JQA) & The International Certification Network (IQNet) Supported by UNICEF Tokyo Office

DRAWINGS REQUESTED

Kubra Binnatova Age 15, Azerbaijan

Voices of the Earth

If the Earth could speak, what would it say to us?

Would it say, "Thank you for keeping the seas and rivers clean," "The forests are decreasing and I think I'm going to catch a cold," or "I'm so sorry for destroying the buildings with the earthquake." Or would it say, "It really hurt when I was hit by a meteorite the other day."

Try and imagine what the Earth would say and draw it in a picture.

IQNet Partners

We, were all given a birth on the earth called “a Miracle Planet”. We have no difference and borders wherever and whenever we were born. I am so fortunate to see such beautiful and colorful paintings filled with your dreams and lots of hopes through this contest which we have jointly run over the past several years. I am fully aware of that those are the gifts which are given from the earth, their parents who gave them selfless loves and also their beloved friends. We also have treasures which only we, human beings can protect, such as water, air and nature itself. In addition to that, there are still a lot of children suffering from poverty, preventable disease, and natural disasters. The main theme and purpose of this contest is to know how the children feel and see this world and the earth through their genuine innocent eyes and hearts. I strongly believe that we can find the important roles and key to protect our earth and the children’s rights beyond any borders from your great piece of work.
